Drug Investigation Wraps Up—Cecilia Boyd, 28 of Owatonna, was arrested during the evening hours on July 12th stemming from a March 26th drug investigation that revealed she and Jeremy Trevino were moving drugs into Owatonna. Our regional task force, neighboring River Valley task force, worked in collaboration with the Drug Enforcement Agency, and Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, on a drug investigation involving Boyd and Trevino from Texas to Owatonna. Trevino flew to Texas and was tracked using a court approved GPS tracking device. It was discovered that Trevino was traveling back to Owatonna on a tour bus and surveillance was conducted along the way, where he was finally observed getting off the bus at Wal-Mart in Owatonna, carting three bags. Boyd pulled into the Wal-Mart lot driving a red Cadillac Escalade and picked up Trevino. An OPD sergeant stopped Boyd shortly thereafter. During this investigation, Boyd was trying to mislead the officer about her travels and was showing signs of nervousness. A State Patrol narcotics K9 was called over and made an alert that drugs were inside the vehicle. Boyd and Trevino were found in possession of a kilo or 2.2 pounds of methamphetamine stuffed inside a pillow and two separate baggies of meth weighing 19.8 and 1.2 grams were found inside Boyd’s purse. This week, Boyd was charged with First and Second Degree Controlled Substance crimes—both felonies that carry a 30 year and 25 year prison term, and/or a $1 million and $500,000 fine. A warrant was issued for Jeremy Trevino, charged with a similar First Degree Controlled Substance Crime and Importing Controlled Substances Across State Borders—a felony that carries a 35 year prison term and/or a 1.5 million dollar fine.

Empty Cart—On Friday, July 8th, OPD officers responded to Wal-Mart for a theft investigation. Officers detained two subjects sitting in the grass near Culver’s with a TV stand inside a shopping cart. Officers learned that these two individuals attempted to return a TV stand valued at $248 with a store receipt, although when the receipt was scanned, the transaction was declined because the receipt had already been used to return the goods - so the thief’s left the store with the TV stand. Store surveillance revealed that the suspects entered the store with an empty shopping cart and selected a TV stand that matched their store receipt, which they found. They went to customer service to return the unpurchased merchandise. During the interviews, the suspects admitted to their actions. David Perry was arrested for outstanding warrants out of Chisago County. His associate, Julie Fliceck, was apparently wearing Perry’s sweatshirt that contained a zippered pouch. Inside the pouch was a used syringe and a broken glass pipe as well as a small baggie with residue inside—which tested presumptive positive for meth. Perry was arrested and charged with a 5th Degree Possession of Methamphetamine. Julie Fliceck was charged by citation for the theft of the TV stand.

Thank You!

The staff at the Owatonna Police Department would like to thank the Owatonna community for their show of support by delivering flowers, cards and supportive messages from children during the last few weeks while American law enforcement has been under attack.

Night to Unite—it’s not too late to register for the 8th annual Minnesota Night to Unite crime prevention celebration in your neighborhood, scheduled for Tuesday, August 2nd. Please follow this link to print registration materials. Police Officers will be out and about to visit with you at your block party. Night to Unite is designed to heighten crime and drug prevention awareness, generate support in local anticrime efforts, and most importantly it is a time to strengthen neighborhood spirit and police community partnerships.
