Winter Parking Awareness

Although the especially mild fall has not been symbolic of winter road conditions, the beginning of Owatonna’s winter parking ordinance enforcement is just around the corner. Slated to take effect at 12:00 AM on November 15th, the ordinance restricts on-street parking on many of our city streets between November 15th, 2015 and March 31st, 2016. Assault Suspect Turns Himself In

On November 1st, our officers were sent to the Owatonna Emergency Department to investigate an assault that occurred earlier in the evening at Spare Time Entertainment. The investigating officer learned the female victim had been to Spare Time looking for her estranged husband where she found her husband in the men’s restroom with another female—all three were thrown out of the establishment. Once outside, the victim alleged she was punched in the head, so hard she got dizzy and felt like vomiting. The suspect then allegedly dragged the female into a vehicle and made her drive. While she was driving, the suspect allegedly kept hitting the victim in the face to the point she couldn’t see out of her right eye. The victim was dropped off at a residence and was later treated at Owatonna Hospital. The investigating officer observed the victim had bruising and swelling around her right eye and learned she had suffered five fractures. The suspect was not located by our officers and a warrant for his arrest was requested. On November 6th, the suspect believing he had a warrant for his arrest turned himself in at the law enforcement center—he was arrested without incident. Clifford J. Marshall, age 33, was charged by a complaint warrant with 3rd Degree Assault—a felony and Domestic Assault—a misdemeanor.

Several Arrests from One Call

On November 6th, our officers were called to a home at 2747 26th St. NW for a possible domestic—the report was that a male was threatening a female. When our officers arrived, they located the caller who reported a female was inside the home with a male. Our officers checked the male & female’s names and found the female had an order for protection against the male and the female had a warrant for her arrest. Officers made contact with the male in the home and were told the wanted female wasn’t inside. Officers entered the home and found the wanted female, Kaylynn A. Smart, hiding in an upstairs closet under a pile of clothes and blankets—she was arrested. The male party was arrested for the Order for Protection violation. Corey J. Tollefson, age 45, was charged with Violating an Order for Protection—a gross misdemeanor. Related to this case, our officers also came upon a male wandering about this property. He was identified and also found to be wanted. He was arrested for the warrant and searched. He was found in possession of a rod used to smoke “dabs” or BHO wax—a combination of butane honey hash oil/tetrahydrocannabinol oil, a schedule I narcotic. The officers also found a container of BHO wax that the male indicated was his. Levi J. Westling, age 23, was charged with 5th Degree Possession of a Controlled Substance—a felony.

Intruder Arrested for Burglary

Early Saturday morning, officers patrolling the area of the 200 block of Main Street overheard some yelling in the area—they found a female yelling and waving her arms at the officers. The officers spoke with the female who indicated there were two men fighting inside her home. Officers entered the home and discovered two males; one on top of the other. The males were separated and it was revealed the face of the male on the bottom was blood covered. The officers learned the female and blood covered male were in the residence when they heard a loud, continuous banging on the door. The female answered the door and the suspect male pushed the female to the side and threatened to kick the victim’s (butt). The victim called 911 but was attacked and knocked to the ground. A 911 call was received by the dispatch center from the same area and same time frame in which a male was heard screaming for help. James E. White, age 34, was arrested and jailed—he faces 1st Degree Burglary and Assault charges.
